His father, Pietro Bernardone, was a prosperous cloth merchant, and his mother, Pica, was of noble descent. Growing up amidst material abundance, Francis was exposed to social privilege and worldly pursuits typical of his status.

Youthful Aspirations and Personality

As a young man, Francis was known for his vivacious spirit, love of social life, and a penchant for fine clothing and entertainment. His early years reflected a typical upper-class upbringing, with aspirations possibly leaning toward a military or entrepreneurial career. However, his worldview was soon to be transformed by a series of spiritual and personal revelations.

Turning Point: From Wealth to Poverty

The Crisis of Wealth and the Call to Simplicity

Around 1204, during a period of personal reflection and a series of spiritual encounters, Francis experienced a profound awakening. He abandoned his luxurious lifestyle after a series of events, including a period of illness and imprisonment during a local conflict, which led him to question materialism and superficial pursuits.

The Vision at San Damiano

One of the pivotal moments in his life was the vision at the church of San Damiano, where he reportedly heard the crucifix instructing him to "repair my church." Interpreted both literally and metaphorically, this call prompted Francis to dedicate himself to rebuilding the spiritual and physical structures of the Church through humility, service, and poverty.

Founding of the Franciscan Order

The Birth of the Friars Minor

In 1209, Francis gathered a small group of followers, emphasizing vows of poverty, chastity, obedience, and a commitment to living in imitation of Christ. These early followers became known as the Friars Minor ("lesser brothers") and laid the foundation for what would become the Franciscan Order.
